The rector of Christ Church read the report of the directors of the Prayer Book Distribution Society. In presenting this report to the council, Mr. Lee said:

"The Rev. J. P. Tyler, the secretary of the society, states that he began the year with a cash balance of $89.44. During the year twelve churches have added the society, states that he began the year with a cash balance of $89.44. During the year twelve churches have added by their contributions the sum of $107.12, making a total of $255.56. All applications for books have been granted. Eleven grants have been made, consisting of 363 prayer books and 305 hymnals, or a total of 665 volumes. In several instances the parishes receiving the grant have made contributions to the society, which have greatly aided it in its work.

Virginia Female Institute.

Mr. Lee also read the report of the Virginia Female Institute for 1904-'5. The Virginia Female Institute for 1904. 5. The principal, Miss Maria P. Duval, states that the year had been most successful and the house full. The institute has assisted many pupils not able to pay the usual charges, and is doing a widespread good. Sixty-eight pupils have been confirmed within six years, and the institute mission society has done good work. Mr. Lee spoke warmly in behalf of the institute, and the Rev. Robert K. Massie, of the Theological Seminary, offered the following preamble and resolution, which was unanimously passed, having been defeated last year at the council's session in Richmond:

Addresses were delivered by the Rev. Dr.
James W. Morris, of St. James Church,
Leesburg, and the Rev. Robert K. Massie, of Theological Seminary, Alexandria.
Rev. Dr. John McGill reported for the committee in regard to aid for the church at Blacksburg. After referring to the unique positi- of this 'church,
which ministers ain's st solely to the students of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, it was recommended that a subscription be raised in this council for the church at Blacksburg, and that the work be recommended to the liberality of the congregation of this diocese.

Day's Services.

After the bishop's address the Council adjourned for divine service. The service was impressively read by the Rev. William Meade Clark, of St. James's Church, Richmond, assisted by the Rev. William Meade Clark, of St. James's Church, Richmond, assisted by the Rev. George P. Mayo, of Boonesville, this county.

The address by the Rev. Dr. Edmund Lee Woodward, medical missionary in China, was listened to with great interest by the clerky and the consregation. Fraternal greetings were exchanged by telegraph with the Convention of the Diocese of North Carolina.

The Bishop introduced Mr. Herbert Carleton, general secretary of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew of America, who delivered an interesting address on the work of the brotherhood.

Captain Cyrus Bossieux, of Richmond, alay delegate, read the report of the Diocesan Brotherhood. It states, among other things, that there has been no death of any beneficial members of the brotherhood during the past year. The fund in hand includes $500 city of Manchester five per cent. bonds and $4,828.17 in the City Bank of Richmond at three per cent. Interest, answer. Mr. White contended that even a clergyman cannot raise very many children and do very much clerical work

Rev. W. B. Williams objected to the resolution, especially on one point—he feared the "demoralizing effect" of such action. He believes that the largest and best families are raised by poor ministers.

Library Important.

The Rev. John Ridout, of Richmond, emphasized especially the importance of a salary of moderate proportions because of the importance to a clergyman of having a good library. One thousand dollars is necessary in order for a rector to provide himself with merely a good reference library. The discussion consumed nearly two hours, and finally the resolution offered by Mr. Massie and strongly supported by him was passed without a dissenting yole.

The Rev. R. H. Goodwin's report from the Committee on Church Property was that $10,000 had been paid during the last current year on the bishop's residence in Richmond. The church still owes $7,500 on the residence, in three notes of $2,500 each.

Furnished Three Bishops.

Furnished Three Bishops.

At the afternoon session of the council the standing committee of the diocess reported that since the last council they have given consent to the consecration of the Rev. Dr. Robert Strange as bishop coadjutor of East Carolina, Rev. Dr. Charles Edward Woodcock as bishop of Kentucky and Rev. Dr. James Henry Darlington as bishop of Harrisburg. The following were recommended to be ordered priests: Rev. E. E. Osgood, of Henrico; Rev. William Henry Darbie, of Luray; Rev. John Wilson Cook, of Pennsylvania; Rev. Emmett Emmanual Miller (colored), of New Jersey, Deacons—S. Roger Tyler, of Loudoun; C. G. Chamberlayne, now in Europe; C. L. Somers (colored), of Richmond. As candidates for holy orders—Guy D. Christian, Thomas L. Sinclair, Wiley R. Mason, David Henry Lewis, Larenzo D. Vaughan, L. C. Harrison.

as L. Sinciair, Wiley R. Mason, David Henry Lewis, Larenzo D. Vaughan, L. C. Harrison.

The Committee on Church Schools, of which the bishop is chairman, made a report, and the following was adopted:

"Resolved, That the committee be continued and instructed to inquire into the expediency and practicability of establishing in this diocese, and under the control of the council, a school for girls in which the charges for board and tultion shall not exceed $200."

It was agreed that St. James Church, Warrenton, be placed on the list of places for the meeting of the council, and that Warrenton follow Alexandria on the list printed in the journal. The next session of the council will be held at Alexandria.

Lynnwood Parish, Rockingham county, was admitted into union with the council as a new parish.

Revive Canons.

Revive Canons.

A commission, consisting of two clergymen and two laymen, was appointed to prepare a revision of the canons of the diocese, and to report the same at the next neeting of the council.

The Rev. C. J. Holt, the founder of the Sparrow Fellowship at the Theological Seminary, providing for a two years' post graduate course at some university or theological seminary of high standing at home or abroad, asked for the endorsement of this fellowship by the council, especially with reference to the procuring of an endowment of $20,000, so that the fellowship may be permanently established. The council endorsed Mr. Holt's resolution unanimously.

DEMIES RECENT TEXAS STORY

Says Low Prices Are Due to Standard-Calls on Commissioner Garfield.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, D. C., May 18,-"I re elved a letter some days ago from a business man of Beaumont, which says that the reports from Texas to the effect that the stagnation in oil prices in that field is due to overproduction are all bosh " said Representative Campbell of Kansas, yesterday. He is the author of the resolution, which passed the House last session, to investigate the House last session, to investigate the Standard Oil Trust. "My correspondent says the low prices of oil are due to the policy of the Standard in refusing to buy the product consorved in tanks and taking only oil from the wells direct. This is done in order to have a weapon with which to menace the producers with a reduction in price paid for oil by threatening to purchase that in the tanks, and thus flooding the market. The Texas people will realize this is all true, if they do not know it already, and then they will be right in line with the people of Kansas in a war on the trust. "I saw Commissioner Garfield to-duy," continued Mr. Campbell, "and he said he had visited all the oil fields of the country, and that he had men at work in every field conducting investigations. I feel confident of the result. "Conditions in Kansas are improving. The railroads have annulled their recent order refusing to allow oil from independent wells to be transported at the same rate given from Standard. This is a distinct victory for us." last session, to investigate the Standard

North Carolina Council.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

CHARLOTTE, N. C., May 18.—The feature of the second day's session of the North Carolina diocesan convention was the address by Bishop Cheshire, who reviewed the work and growth of the church in this diocese during the past year. The report enumerated the consecration of two new churches, St. Savjor's, in Jackson county, and St. Alban's Church, at Littleton, and the ordination
of three new priests and two deacons.
The report set forth the urgent need of more clergymen in the diocese. Missions were debated at length at the morning session, and he afternoon
the serious financial condition of the diocese led to a spirited debate, and the offering of sundry resolutions intended to solve the problem. None of these met universal favor, and the matter was placed in the hands of a special committee to report later. The race issue came to the front before adjournment in the shape of a debate on a resolution to give the colored people a bishop and jurisdiction apart from the North Carolina diocese.

Many spirited speeches
were made,
prominent among them being the address in advocacy of separation by Mr. Richard H. Battle, of Raleigh, and the strong note against it from Mr. John Wilkes, of Charlotte, As the separation matter
is now in the hands of a special committee of the general convention, action
by this convention was postponed.
Reports on St. Mary's School, Raleigh,
and the Thompson Orphanage, Charlotte,
were read this afternoon.
The diocesan council, Daughters of the flourishing all over the State, and many flie addresses were made. An election of diocesan officers was then held, the preent officers—Mrs. F. J. Murdoch, of

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

LEXINGTON, Va., May 18.—The Virginia Military institute catalogue for the session 1904-05 has just been issued from the press, and is an interesting publication of more than one hundred pages, containing much information concerning this justly famous military school. The enrollment this year is 289, representing twenty-six States, besides China and Porto Rico. Virginia leads with 127, Texas comes next with 35, then Tennessee with 25, Kentucky and West Virginia with 11 each, and the rest are scattering, with three from China and two from Porto Rico. There are 2 members of the academic staff and five of the military staff. Since organization of the school in 183, there have been 1,914 full graduates, and among these have been men who have occupied positions of prominence in the military, judicial and executive life of the nation.

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, May 18.—Peace in the teamsters strike is still hanging in the balance and although it is generally expected that a settlement will soon be reached, it seems to-night further away than it did twenty-four hours ago. It was confidently asserted by the team owners association that the teamsters had consented to arbitrate with them the question of whether union teamsters should make deliveries to boycotted houses. President Shea, of the Teamsters' Union, to-day declared that he had never agreed to any such proposal. This misunderstanding caused a halt in the impending settlement.
